Title	https://framenet.icsi.berkeley.edu/fndrupal/
Publication Type	Website
Year of Publication	1997
Authors	Institute I C S [2]
Keywords	English [3]
Notes	The FrameNet project is an attempt to identify and describe English semantic frames. Although semantic frames do not exactly correspond to semantic domains, there is a close correspondence. The list is far from complete but provides a very useful perspective on the semantics of lexical sets. It has around 370 frames.
